

Our Learning Council were formed early in 2016. This pupil voice group are all about promoting learning in school. Each class chooses one person to represent them on the Learning Council.

The learning attitudes that are promoted across the school are:

- Resilience
- Enthusiasm
- Ambition
- Creativity
- Hands-on learning

These spell out REACH!

To help engage all the children, each learning skill has been linked to a character, for example, Roxy the Resilient Robin. One of our parents has kindly made a soft toy version of each character and we display these in our school hall so that we see them all the time and can refer to them in our assemblies when we celebrate successful learning.

As the Learning Council, our mission is to make sure that every child, parent and school governor understands each of our 'REACH' skills and why they are important. We have worked really hard this term to spread the word. In the past we have led assemblies for the children to explain what good learning should look like, made a 'REACH' information leaflet to share with parents at parents' evening and met with the school governors to update them too.

Everyone has a 'REACH' passport in which the children collect signatures each time they show one of the 5 learning skills. When the passport is completed and the child is consistently showing the 'REACH' skills in all lessons, they receive a special 'REACH' wristband which they can wear at school.

Every year we hold a REACH week. This is our chance to celebrate our learning skills. The Learning Council plan the week and make sure it is great fun with lots of opportunities to be outside.

REACH Week Challenge 1
Resilience

Can you do a plank in an interesting and safe place? How long can you hold it there? Post your pictures please! REACH passports signed for all entries.

REACH Week Challenge 3
Ambition

Can post a picture of a new skill you have learnt since lockdown? REACH passports signed for all entries.

The photographs show a child performing a plank on a chair and another child working with a wheelbarrow and bricks outdoors.
